

eMazzanti Technologies Grows Staff 10% in 30 Days with eMazzanti.Ninja Career Site

New career website, eMazzanti.Ninja, generates seven new hires in tight tech labor market to meet needs of growing customer base

Hoboken, NJ -- (Cision) August 30, 2018 – eMazzanti Technologies, a Hoboken, New Jersey IT consultant and managed services provider, today announced that it hired seven new staff members in a recent 30-day period with the help of a new career website, <https://emazzanti.ninja/>.

The number represents more than ten percent of the company's active employees. According to company leadership, the new career website helped to generate the interest and job inquiries leading to the new hires.

Growing consistently at double-digit rates since the company's founding in 2001, eMazzanti Technologies is constantly in search of experienced technical talent. The success of the new career website is remarkable, considering the current tight tech labor market. It's also gratifying to company leadership.

"Our new staff is great news for customers who have come to expect fast support response times, technicians with best-in-the-world training and service delivery excellence," stated Jennifer Mazzanti, CEO, eMazzanti Technologies. "Our new career website helps us stay ahead of the game with new hires to maintain outstanding service levels."

eMazzanti's new career website, eMazzanti.Ninja, includes information about the company, core benefits of working for eMazzanti Technologies, and current career opportunities with detailed information about each position. The website says this about the company:

"There's one mission that drives everything we do. Delivering exceptional customer service, always. At eMazzanti Technologies, we're not satisfied to simply meet industry standards—we aim to smash them. And for over 16 years, we have."

"From lightning fast response times to the friendliest support team you'll ever speak to, we like to go the extra mile for our customers. Our engineering expertise is matched only by the enthusiasm of our engineers, and there's nothing they love more than solving something that's been irking you or supporting your business as it scales."

Unlimited Training Budget

The site also touts the company's worldwide support and partner network, an unlimited staff training budget for certifications, competencies and other learning opportunities. In addition, the company's practice of sharing knowledge and expertise and access to leading edge technologies is also presented.

In addition to consistent double-digit growth, eMazzanti Technologies has enjoyed a string of accolades and successful, long-term customer relationships for 17 years since its founding in 2001. The technology company has also appeared on every Inc. 5000 list from 2010 to 2017.

Enhancing Customer Success

Founded just weeks before 9/11, the company built its success on helping other businesses survive and thrive through disasters and economic downturns. An aggressive partnership with Microsoft and an early adopter technology strategy have yielded consistent revenue growth.

"We show our customers how to grow their business and enhance revenues with technology," stated Jennifer Mazzanti, CEO, eMazzanti Technologies. "From the beginning, we have built our success on enhancing our customers' security, longevity and prosperity."
