

eMazzanti Technologies Receives CIANJ Companies That Care: Champions of Good Works Award

New Jersey MSP honored alongside several Companies That Care for its Blue Project effort to conserve ocean wildlife, raise awareness and provide technical resources to aid in marine research

Hoboken, New Jersey -- (Cision) May 9, 2019 - eMazzanti Technologies, a NYC area managed services provider (MSP), IT consultant, and cloud services company, is proud to announce that The Commerce and Industry Association of New Jersey (CIANJ) has named eMazzanti Technologies as a 2019 Companies That Care: Champions of Good Works Award recipient.

In its seventh year, the Companies That Care award salutes the generosity of New Jersey businesses who demonstrate meaningful philanthropy that is impacting the communities they serve. This year's champions were decided by a blue-ribbon panel of judges.

eMazzanti was recognized for its Blue Project, a corporate effort to raise awareness and support for ocean conservation and animal protection. The firm commits financial resources to ocean cleanup and marine conservation. In addition, it works on spreading awareness of changes everyone can make to have a positive impact on the ocean's ecosystem. Furthermore, eMazzanti commits technical resources and equipment to aid in marine research.

"eMazzanti's marine conservation efforts truly exemplify the theme of the Companies that Care awards program and touched the heart of the judges," stated Diane Walsh, Executive Vice President, Communications and Programs, CIANJ.

Recently, Jennifer and Carl Mazzanti, CEO and President of eMazzanti Technologies, completed a trip to Iceland. While there, they connected research teams at the WHOI (Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute) and Mote Marine Laboratory and Aquarium with Iceland's Bjarnarhöfn Shark Museum.

"eMazzanti's Blue Project reflects our commitment to ocean life as well as our long-time interests," stated Jennifer Mazzanti, CEO, eMazzanti Technologies. "We are glad that CIANJ has chosen to honor our work to protect the ocean and its wildlife, and ultimately ourselves and the planet."

Companies That Care Gala

To celebrate the award winners, CIANJ and COMMERCE Magazine recently hosted their seventh annual tribute to the kindness and generosity of the business community. Forty-five companies, including eMazzanti Technologies and leading manufacturers, retailers, hospitals, banks and colleges and universities, were honored as “Champions of Good Works” at the gala reception, attended by more than 200 business executives.

“These caring companies embody the Commerce and Industry Association of New Jersey’s mission to make the Garden State a better place to live, work and raise a family,” said Anthony Russo, President of CIANJ.

CIANJ is a statewide business advocacy organization, representing more than 900 corporate members from every industry sector. The organization asked the business community to share stories of its philanthropy.

Their stories became a special section of the March issue of COMMERCE Magazine that was distributed at the reception, which was held at the elegant Nanina’s In the Park in Belleville. A highlight of the evening was the inspirational keynote address given by Janette Scrozzo, Director of Development for Covenant House New Jersey.
